Company portrait	Since 2008, Denipro AG has developed from a Ferag AG component supplier into an independent supplier of rolling conveyor technology systems in the intralogistics segment
Intralogistics innovations/ milestones	In a short timespan, the company has launched several innovative products: deniway, easychain, denimove and now denisort (debut at LogiMAT 2016). They are based on the principle of “rolling, not sliding.” The advantages of this principle are: low wear, less maintenance, greater energy efficiency, higher productivity and higher availability.
Corporate strategy	Denipro AG identifies specific, new trends in conveyor technology and intralogistics and refines them. As a premium supplier with exceptional potential for innovation, this medium-sized company offers customized, individual solutions for a host of applications and industries ranging from food, pharmaceuticals and healthcare to the automotive sector and e-commerce.
